MACLEOD SAVED BY A TH

Invest g t n r C mmittee Finds Him Guilty on Three of the Charges.

EFFORT M'DE TO EXTENUATE HIS CONDUCT

Vote on Resolution Calling for His Resignation Stands Seven to Seven, Jaynes Being Excused-What His Friends Said for Him.

At last night's meeting of the Board of Education, Henry C. Akin read the report of the investigating committee in the Macleod Specification first charged the superintendent of buildings with having purchashed materials without an order or vouchers and without authority from the board as required by the rules. This charge was sustained by a unaulmous vote of the committee.

Specification second charged the superm tendent with neglecting to keep a set of books and a record of all transactions. Sustained by unanimous vote. The next specification alleged that Macleod made expenditures and incurred a large indebtedness for labor and material without authority, at the High school, Vinton school and the supply house. Charges not sustained as to the High school, sustained as to the Vinton school and not sustained regarding the supply house. Specification fourth charged the superintendent with ignering the instructions of the committee on buildings and property regarding expenditures and repairs and improvements and disregarding instructions. Not sustained, unanimous. The charge of selling school property The charge of selling school property without authority was not sustained by a vote of 4 to 1. W. N. Babrock voting to sustain. This charge included the disappearance of the famous stove stored at the Jackson street supply house, which, the investigation showed, had been removed by Macleod's brother after he had taken the lock off the door, and the removal of second lock off the door, and the removal of sev-eral loads of stone from the Jackson street supply house to Member Knodeil's residence with which Knodell constructed a retaining wall in front of his property. The charge however, was sustained as to the selling of school desks without authority. Specification sixth alleged extravagance and carclessness in the work at school buildings. Not sustained, unanimous. The charge of increasing the number of mpioves was not sustained The charge that Matt Garranty had been employed as a laborer when the superintendent knew he was guilty of carrying liquor into a school building was evidently sustained, as the committee reported that Macleod had been guilty of impropriety in giving Garrahty employment.

A supplementary report was made show-ing the extenuating circumstances in the cases where the charges had been sustained. but this report Mr. Babcock refused to sign on the ground that it nullified the action of the committee with reference to the charges He further objected that the report was in the nature of a recommendation while the committee had agreed that it would make a finding only of facts. This agreement was reached by the committee to forestall a minority report, which Mr. Babcock said he would make if any recommendations were

At the conclusion of the reading of the eport it was placed on file.

His Resignation Sought. Mr. Elgutter then offered this resolution: Whereas, Certain charges made by the committee on buildings and properly against Samuel Macleod, superintendent of buildings, have been sustained by a full report of the the special investigating committee, therefore Resolved, That this board request the resignation of said Samuel Macleod as superintendent of buildings, to take effect from and after January 1 1894.

Dr. Duryea thought the resolution out of he had not misappropriated a penny of the board's funds. The doctor also wanted the board to acquit Macleod of negligence, and said that he thought the superintendent had done the best he could. He thought the done the best he could. He thought the supplementary report fully explained Maclead's actions in cases where the charges had been sustained. "If Macleod is to be reprimanded," said Dr. Duryca, "I think the board ought to be reprimanded for allowing these so-called irregularities." And he thought the extreme course suggested wrong in the face of the extenuating circumstances. Mr. Morrison made a vigorous reply to Dr. Duryea, insisting that Macleod had ignored instructions from committees and from the board and had ordered unnecessary work done at the High school and the Central school without proper authority, and all this without excuse. Mr. Smythe said that the school board was responsible to the people for expendi-tures in all departments, and that Mr. Maclead as an employe of the board was respon-ble to the board and not to the public, and when he caused expense without the board's sanction he should be disciplined.

Mr. C. E. Babcock, as chairman of the committee on claims, said that knew of large expenditures made by Mac leod without authority and in violation of the law, and that in one instance particu-iarly a bill was presented for plumbing at a certain school, which he refused to allow be cause the work was unauthorized by the board and in plain violation of the statute,

Saved by a Tie. It was decided to vote on the resolution by ballot. Just before the vote Mr. Jaynes requested to be excused. The request was granted and he left the room. When the ballots were counted they showed seven for the resolution and seven against. The president declared the resolution lost. The vote was: For the resolution -C. E. Babcock, W. N. Babcock, Coryell, Eigutter, Morrison, Smythe and Burgess, Against—Duryen,

Pierson, Akin, Knoded, Thomas, Powell and

Mr. Babcock suggested that the name of the West Omaha school be changed to the Columbian school. This motion carried.

A letter from the Smead Heating and Ventilating company was read calling attention to the fact that the Smead ory closets had won in the courts against the Fuller Warren company. Referred to the commit-

The committee having in charge the Yale Glee club concert has agreed on the following regulations governing the movements of arriages after reaching Boyd's theater, and trust they will be strictly observed, so that confusion may be avoided: After unloading carriages will proceed to Seventeenth street, on the west side of the theater, and there will be assigned to the position in line to which they are entitled. Before loading carriages will drive east on Harney street to the front of the theater and there will receive their loads according to rotation.

The scenery of "Yon Yonson," which is the New Year's attraction at the Boyd, is peculiar. Usually there are only special scenes carried along with the traveling company, the local and conventional scenery of every theater being depended upon for ge, eral effects. In "Yon Yonson," however, the scenes amid which the plot of the piece is laid are of such a novel description that everything has to be specially prepared for it—nothing else fits. It pleases the eye to see something fresh, and this part of "You something fresh, and this part of "You Youson" is as fresh as the dialect of the Scandinavian emigrant and his northwestern surroundings. The four great stage settings of "You Yousoa" are "The Log Jum," which faithfully represents a lumber camp in winter; "Minnetonka by Moonlight," "The Railroad Station" and the "Conservatory of Hotel Lafayette." MR. CORCORAN'S IDEA OF REFORM.

OMARA, Dec. 25 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: Referring to your editorial today, will you permit me to make some remarks on the subject of Mr. Peffer's article in the North American Review. When living in Lincoln I was one of the first to write and speak for reform in state and national politics before the populist party was organized, but I have been too moderate for their liking, too determined in my advocacy of reform for the "bosses" and "heelers" of the other parties. I have en-deavored to persuade, to convert. It is a slow process. But I intend to continue, with God's help, for I have a lively faith in the power of truth.

The night before the populist convention in Omaha I spoke to the esteemed General Master Workman Powderly and other leaders, and I tried to persuade them to moderate their demand for $50 per capita. and to extend the necessary changes over a reasonable length of years. I tried in vain. One man near Mr. Powderly objected to me that when once any formula was put before the farmers it would not do to make the least change, it would puzzle them, they would surely think there was something wrong, in other words, that the farmers are stupid. I do not think the farmers are near so stupid as some bankers I have met, and I have always found the farmers more open to reason. It is to their reason I address myself, and not to their feelings or preju

Now I have always opposed the idea of regulating the currency on a per capita basis at all, so I must still oppose Senator Pef-fer if he makes such a proposal. I have advocated government ownership of railroads. and in that I am happy to agree with Sen-ator Peffer, but I do not think, to borrow the able distance of practical politics." The most we can do with the corporations at present is to curb their inscient pretensions dictate the legislation of Nebraska With the fourth proposition of Senator Pef-fer, 'discouragement of large private land holdings," I can agree, and advocate a grad-uated land tax on the number of acres held making the tax sufficiently enerous to discourage large holdings of land. I must also object to the ratio of 16 to 1 for silver, because I look upon that ratio made in 1834 as one of the first lows struck at silver, and Hamilton's ratio of 15½ to 1 is more reasonable, if we are to be in good faith for free coinage of silver. I would not care to accept the second propo-sition of Senator Peffer, interest rates reduced to the level of average net profits in productive industries." It seems to me un propositions. That is the great trouble with some leaders of the populist party. They want to throw a sop to every "ism" on God's earth, instead of saying, in the stern spirit of true reform, "No, our platform is not a dusphill, on which every political scavenger may dump his rubbish." The money question is more ripe for settlement. First, because it has received more widespread discussion; secondly, because the injustice of modern financial legislation presses more heavily; thirdly, it blocks the way since money is needed to carry out every reform and appreciation of money increases all present burdens.

The appreciation of gold is an effect which has been produced more by the arbitrary legislation of European powers than by the United States. The United States alone can neutralize the action of Europe. Nay, more, the United States alone can depreciate the value of gold to a greater extent than it was depreciated by the discoveries of gold in California and Australia in 1849.

The question of the dislocation of commerce and those periodical panics, so dis-tressing in their effects, must not be con-fused with the question of the appreciation of gold. They are two distinct questions The United States alone can settle both The idea that the republic of the United States must, nolens volens, accept the situa-tion and be now and forever the slaves of London financiers, and that our trade opera-tions require gold monometallism, is simply the offspring of the ignorance of our bankers who are aided by an army of sneaking sycophants and clumsy clacqueurs. It is stupid. It is absurd. So much for the statement of the case. Think well on it.

DISCORD IN BOARD OF HEALTH

Last Meeting of the Present Boly Not (n) of Harmony.

Protest Against its Enforcement by Owners of Stables-McDonald Will Proceed to Carry Out Contract-Dumps to Be Closed New Year's Day.

The final meeting of the present Board of Health, held yesterday afternoon, was rather a stormy session, and not the love feast generally witnessed when the incumbents of a department of a city government get together for the last time to close up the business and say farewells after two years of service in the harness together. Chief Seavey was the only member absent.

Mr. Howell immediately brought up the question of enforcing the new garbage contract. He had in his possession the protest presented to the city council and referred to the new committee on police, signed by Paxton & Sharpe, J. H. Evans, Omana Merchants Express and others. The signers of the protest have a large number of horses and they claim that to pay Contractor McDonald 20 cents per cubic vard for receiving at his cars and transporting from the city the offai from their stables would be an expense excessive and one they could uot stand. Mr. Howell said that he had been informed that it would cost some of those protesting $10 or more per day if they ere cor pelled to pay the prices the con-tractor had demanded. Pending an investigation the gentieman from the Seventh was opposed to closing up the river dumps and favored permitting those hauling offal from their own stables to unload it into the river as formerly. He believed that the contractor should agree to this, as an amicable adjustment of the dis-pute would prove for the best interests of

To Which McDonald Objects. Mr. McDonald was present and objected, He had gone to the expense of getting in readiness to commence work under his contract, and was now only awaiting orders. Any delays would occasion him loss. He had made a contract with the representatives of the city and could see no reason for consult g outsiders.

Mr. Howell replied that he was there to represent the taxpayers and no one eise, and that he would never vote to enforce a contract that might prove obnexious. While he desired to be fair, yet he thought that if Mr. McDonald proposed to be arbitrary and enforce upon the clizens a con-tract which some say is observed, the con-wanted the matter looked into and believed no injustice would be worked by the few days delay required. Mr. Newton Niday, who is to be interested with Mr. McDonaid, accused Mr. Howeli of playing the baby act and endeavoring to make flesh of one and fowl of another. Mr.

not know whether the position of those signing the protest was correct or not, yet the tractor was making a mistake.

Howell vigorously denied the imputation. Mr. McLearie believed that the questions were between the city and contractor. The contract had been entered into and should be enforced. If any injustice resulted from its operation the necessary remedies could come from the council. He favored closing the dumps and putting the contractor to work. Mr. Duncan felt the same way. Howell Stood Alone.

Dr. Somers said that the contract could never be enforced until the dumps were closed. He favored causing the contractor to proceed and made a motion that the river dumps be closed after January 1. The doctor's motion prevailed, Mr. Howell alone voting in the negative. Seavey Wants Vaccination. Chief Seavey sent in a written request that the board take the necessary steps to cause each principal or teacher in the public schools to compel each scholar to produce either a certificate or other proof of vaccing-tion, and that the attendance of those not vaccinated be prohibited. The communication was laid on the table. After a short executive session the board adjourned and unless some unforseen circumstance arises no more meetings of the present board will be held. The first meetng of the new board will be on Monday,

OMAHA'S BEALTH RECORD.

Dr. Somers Presents a Review of the Year's Work in Ills Department. At the meeting of the Board of Health vesterday Health Commissioner Somers presented a resume of the doings of the board for the past year. The doctor pointed to the fact that there had been a harmonious feeling for the most part in the department and that the members had labored to accomp ish good. Since the present board assumed its duties nearly two years ago the mortuary record had been decreased perceptibly. For in-stance, the total number of deaths this year will fail short of those of last year about sixty and of 1891 about 120. There has been an increase in the number of births and While opposition has been encountered from without—both from individuals and other departments of the city government—and while there has not always been a unanimity of opinion in the board as regards methods of procedure, the doctor feels that satisfactory progress has been made, and extends his thanks to the members for the support given and courtesies extended him as the executive officer. He believes that the work of the department must necessarily be largely educational, except in cases of emergency, and attributes as a help to the officials the cholera scare, which has caused the people to take a deeper interest in antiary matter.

sanitary matters. Health boards are modern institutions and none have a history dating back further than twenty years, and their value is best exhibited from the records of cholera epidemics. In 1849 there were upwards of 10,000 fives sacrificed in this country, while in 1892-3 the disease did not gain entrance, notwithstanding the increased population and immigration. For this state he gives credit to the health boards. While small tox is now raging on an increased scale in this country the doctor believes that the preventive of it becoming epidemic lies with vaccination. In this country and Great Britain scarlet fever has been reduced onehalf in the past fifteen years. If all the milk produced and all the drinking water was thoroughly sterilized by heat typhoid fever would become a disease of the past in sixty days, cholera would be no more and dipatheria would be reduced 50 per cent. If proper preventions in the way of cleanliness, isolation and disinfection were to be taken the great white plague, consumption, that now destroys one in seven of the entire human family, would be blotted out in ten Dr. Somers calls attention to the new mills ordinance, and believes that if it is enforced the large infant mortality during the summer months will be greatly reduced.

The School Board controversy over the dry closets is in the hands of a joint committee for investigation, and the doctor believes it will be adjusted in the cause of right. Citing an instance to unhold the course of the board in this controversy be calls aften-tion to the fact that the state board of lowa recently condemned the dry closet system in that state. The squatter problem is prac-tically solved, yet it will require much work to carry it to consider the to carry it to completion.

While some friction is liable to prise over parting the new garbage contract into force, the doctor believes that all of the difficulties will be easily adjusted. One of the greatest needs of the city is a contagious disease hos-pital, and a strong recommendation is made for the establishment of one. There should would be somewhat greater.
